WILL PRESENT THE FIVE POWER PLAN PUBLICLY TODAY

French and British in Heated Debate Over Subs

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Preparations to present publicly the five power naval and submarine treaties at tomorrow's open session of the arms conference were completed in committee today after the British and French delegates had indulged in a sharp exchange over the submarine issue. At the same time, the Japanese and Chinese about completed their drafting of the treaty by which Shantung is to be restored to China and it was predicted that this agreement too, might be formally written into the book of conference accomplishments at tomorrow's public meeting. Despite the British-French tilt, the naval committee of the whole approved in short order the two treaties by which the powers agree to limit their capital ship sea power and to impose certain restrictions on their use of submarines. At the public session the treaties are to be read into the record and each delegation head is to deliver an address expressing his government's acceptance. In their final agreement on Shantung, it was learned tonight the Japanese and Chinese accepted in substance the proposal supported by President Harding providing that Tsingtao-Tsinanfu railway shall be purchased by China and paid for with treasury notes and that two Japanese officials be included in the operating personnel during the period of payment. The notes are to be fifteen years with an option of full payment in five.

The agreement on Japanese participation in the roads' management provides for a Japanese traffic manager and one Japanese and one Chinese chief accountant. These officials are under a Chinese managing director. The sudden flare up over the retention of submarines came as an unexpected feature of today's naval committee session and led to an intense debate between the French and British.

Burial of Theater Victims Started Yesterday

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Washington today held the first of its many funerals for the 97 who perished Saturday night when the roof of the Knickerbocker motion picture theater collapsed under the weight of snow, and memorial services were announced by a number of churches and other organizations. Social functions and business conferences ceased in honor of the dead and theaters, again in operation sheltered audiences, while hospital staffs continued to treat the more than sixty injured still confined.

A number of official and unofficial investigations also got underway today and others were announced. Meanwhile, late today, another building, one of the long sheds of the freight depot of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad at First street and Florida avenue, collapsed. No one was injured. Damage was estimated at $29,000. The structure, one of the walls of which gave way, it is believed due to the effects of melting snow on the sloping roof, was built in 1904. Firemen and police immediately began an investigation.

Edward H. Shaughnessy of Chicago, second postmaster general, one of the most critically injured in the Knickerbocker collapse, was reported steadily improving tonight. His wife and two daughters also were injured. The funerals today included that of Madame Virginia Feraud, sister of Dr. Julio Bianchi, Guatemalan minister under the Herrera regime.

Secretary Weeks sent flowers to the families residing here of the seven war department employees who were killed in the catastrophic and personal letters of condolence to those not living in the city.

Memorial services were held today in the press gallery of the capitol building by the Washington correspondents for L. E. Strayer of Pittsburgh Dispatch and C. C. Brainerd of Brooklyn Eagle, and the law class of 1924 at George Washington University held similar services in honor of two of its members who were killed, George Brown University, five of whose students were among the dead, announced that its memorial service would be held tomorrow.

FATE OF COUNTY REPRESENTATION PLAN UNCERTAIN

Chances Are it Will be Buried at Today's Session

(By The Associated Press) SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 31.—The fate of "county representation" hung in the balance tonight when the constitutional convention adjourned until 10 a. m., tomorrow. Opponents of the plan declared it was certain to meet defeat, while its supporters said they still were hopeful of securing the necessary fifty-two votes. A roll call tomorrow night seemed probable. Nearly a dozen delegates have notified President Woodward of their desire to speak on the proposition tomorrow. Former Governor Joseph W. Fifor, one of the delegates from the twenty-sixth district, will open the day's debate for proponents of the plan.

Cook county's delegation of thirty-eight, a number of whom remained away today, are expected in full force tomorrow. Checking up prospect votes opponents of the county unit plan fixed forty-eight votes as the limit which sponsors of the proposal could muster.

Three of the small downstate groups hostile to the plan and who hold the balance of power on the question, took the floor against the proposal today.

Delegate Gale, of Galesburg, declared the proposed section was a step back towards the dark ages and the rotten borough system of England, an attempt to turn back the clock of history which would result only in hatred and distrust, not only between Chicago and downstate, but among downstate counties themselves.

Characterizing the proposal plan as "monstrosity in the distribution of representation," Delegate Carlstrom, of Aledo, declared that it would result in disenfranchising fifty percent of the people of the state and place the power of legislation in the hands of a minority. "I believe there is a more effective and fair method of limiting Cook county," he said. "This can be done by basing the membership of the lower house on an apportionment of the voters."

MAY BE DELAY IN PROCEEDINGS AGAINST MORSE

Knickerbocker Theater Disaster Halts Proceedings

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Grand jury proceedings against Charles W. Morse, of New York, in connection with his war-time shipping contracts with the government may be delayed, Attorney General Daugherty indicated today, because of the Knickerbocker theater investigation. District Attorney Peyton Gordon, he added, talked with him concerning the theater investigation and as this would be begun at once it was to be presumed that it would delay the Morse investigation. Discussing published reports that Mr. Morse had requested permission to go to Italy to consult his physician Mr. Daugherty said the matter had not been brought to his attention but that it appeared that if the intentions of a particular physician were absolutely necessary and if Mr. Morse's life was in danger he would not be inclined to be cold-blooded in deciding such a matter.

DISCUSSION OF SOLDIER BONUS BILL RENEWED

Frustrate Plan to Add it to Allied Debt Measure

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Discussion of the long pending soldier bonus bill was renewed today at both ends of the capitol. Before the house ways and means committee officers of organizations of former service men urged immediate action on the bill and said the problem of raising the necessary funds was for congress to solve.

In the senate Republican leaders frustrated attempts by the Democrats to add the bonus bill to the allied debt refunding measure and adopted 42 to 28, a motion by Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, to lay on the table an amendment offered by Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, incorporating the "five way" adjusted compensation plan.

The amendment provided that the bonus be paid out of the interest on the foreign debt and if this proved insufficient the secretary of the treasury should issue certificates of indebtedness to be redeemed out of future interest payments or with the approval of the president to sell so much of the foreign bonds as might be necessary.

In offering his amendment, Senator Simmons declared that when he had proposed the bonus bill as an amendment to the tax revision measure he had been told that it was the desire of the majority to act on the bonus in connection with the debt refunding bill but now the Republicans had decided the bonus measure should be acted upon separately.

Opposing the amendment, Chairman McCumber of the finance committee declared it had been decided to have the bonus bill originate in the house, because it would be a revenue raising measure and that everyone knew that adjusted compensation legislation soon would be enacted. Senator Watson of Indiana cut the discussion short with a motion to lay on the table, stating that everyone knew a bonus bill soon would be passed.

DEMOCRATS PROTEST

The motion brought protests from the Democrats who declared it violated the unanimous consent agreement to limit debate, not prohibit it. Republicans contested this view and the point of order against the motion was overruled by Vice President Coolidge.

The senate then adopted the Watson motion with three Republicans—Johnson, LaFollette and Norris—voting against it and two Democrats—King and Myers—supporting it.

SENATOR KENYON TO LEAVE SENATE FOR CIRCUIT JUDGESHIP

Was Named to the Eighth District Yesterday By President Harding—Appointment Confirmed Unanimously by the Senate—Democrats See Politics in the Move

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Senator Kenyon of Iowa, leader of the agriculture bloc and chairman of the senate labor committee was named today by President Harding to be circuit judge for the eighth district. Immediately after receipt of the nomination the senate confirmed it unanimously in open session.

At the white house it was said that the president had appointed Mr. Kenyon to succeed the late Judge Walter L. Smith, because of his high regard for the senator's ability and because of the latter's known desire to have a place on the federal bench.

Senator Kenyon in a formal statement later, also said the president, when a member of the senate, knew of his dislike for politics and his love for the law.

In the senate, Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, after confirmation had been voted, said that while he was confident that the appointment of Mr. Kenyon was because of the latter's eminent qualifications, the question would arise thruout the agricultural sections as to whether the selection was not intended to drive a wedge into, and ultimately destroy the agricultural bloc. Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, declared that with the Kenyon appointment the "drive to break the agriculture bloc has been started."

Senator Kenyon does not plan to quit the senate until the middle of February. By that time, he expects passage of the Capper cooperative marketing bill in which he is vitally interested and with which he has had much to do as leader of the agriculture bloc.

Senator Borah of Idaho, is next in the Republican line on the labor committee and if the senate rule of seniority, so long established is followed in this case Mr. Borah will head the committee. The election of a committee chairman, however, rests with the committee on committees.

The new leader of the new agriculture bloc may not be designated for several days. Half a dozen senators have been active in promoting the blocs program on the floor, among them Senator Kellogg, Minnesota; Capper, Kansas; Norris, Nebraska; McNary, Oregon, and Gooding, Idaho.

SEPARATE TRIALS ARE GRANTED TO SMALL AND CURTIS

Judge Edwards Made Ruling Unexpectedly Tuesday

(By The Associated Press) WAUKEGAN, Ill., Jan. 31.—Trial of Governor Len Small and Vernon Curtis, Grant Park banker charged with Lieutenant Governor Fred E. Sterling, with conspiracy to embezzle state funds, was separated today when Judge Claire C. Edwards granted Mr. Curtis' motion for a severance and overruled a similar motion filed in behalf of the governor. The decision the governor goes to trial first.

The court immediately arraigned the governor and C. C. LeFors, chief defense counsel pleaded "not guilty" for him, while a similar plea was entered in behalf of Mr. Curtis, who is confined to his home by quarantine. At the request of C. Fred Mortimer, state's attorney of Sangamon county the court fixed next Saturday for setting the trial date. Judge Edwards indicated he was ready to dismiss other cases and start the trial next Monday, Feb. 6, and Mr. LeFors said the date was satisfactory to the defense.

The court's decision came as an unexpected climax to a morning of argument that frequently became heated. Mr. LeFors, closing for the defense had asked for a recess to rest his voice when Judge Edwards said: "I don't know that there is any need to extend these arguments. I have given the matter considerable thought and I believe that I am satisfied and might as well rule now."

The state failed to show convincing proof that it would be hampered by separation of the trials, the judge said. "It is my opinion," he declared, "that all the circumstances that might be introduced in evidence in a joint trial are admissible as against either defendant in a separate trial."

THE 1916 LEVEL.

The total of all appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1916, the year before the war was $1,114,927,000, including $121,567,000 for "permanent annual appropriations," mostly interest and sinking fund for the public debt. It is estimated that the total appropriations for the fiscal year 1923 will be $3,500,000,000, about $2,000,000,000 of which will be for interest, sinking fund, and soldier relief incident to the world war. The house appropriations committee is striving to cut the expenditures by another quarter of a billion, and it is declared that when all the appropriation bills have been written their total will not be more than $2,500,000,000 in excess of those for 1916. When we take into consideration the present reduced purchasing power of the dollar, it is seen that the amount of actual material and labor consumed in the operation of the government has been brought down to about the 1916 level.

A VOICE FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

A prominent Uruguayan has written a book on the war in which he has the following to say on his country's attitude toward the Monroe doctrine: "South America's policy toward Europe must be that of the United States. We must not forget that the Monroe doctrine, proclaimed upon the threshold of our independence, was the only measure which saved us from becoming European colonies. With-out the United States, the South American republics could not exist."

That is a thought that appears to be spreading among the countries to the south of us, and it is a sentiment that can be fostered through our merchant marine and American manufacturers who export to South America. The acceptance of the Monroe doctrine by the Latin Americans, depends to a large extent on their general feeling toward the United States and that, in turn, depends on the treatment their citizens receive from the concerns who sell them goods. With established steamship lines to South American ports and regular sailing schedules, it is up to our exporters to develop the closest relations with those countries. If commercial transactions are of advantage to those of quality of goods, prices, and terms, it follows that diplomatic relations will be of the friendliest.

THE PROSPECT FOR BETTER PRICES.

The Bache Review is quite often quoted in these columns because it reasons in a very clear way in discussing financial subjects. In this week's issue is the following concerning crop and commodity prices which sounds reasonable and has a conservative optimistic tone:

"The wholesale prices of cattle hogs, hides and corn are below the prices of 1913, while the average wholesale price of all commodities is about 50 percent above the level of 1913, and the prices of many manufactured articles are double those of pre-war days. The 1921 crop was below estimated normal production, and considering the large export movement of agricultural products last year, it is concluded that stocks of agricultural products at the present time are not above normal. For fifteen or twenty years before the war, agricultural production was slowly increasing, but prices of agricultural products were rapidly increasing, due to the fact that the population of the United States was growing fast and was becoming industrialized.

"In such a country it is more difficult to enlarge agricultural output than that of manufacturing. This is the reason for the present relationship between the prices of farm products and of manufactured goods as abnormal and temporary, and increase in the price of farm products rather than reduction of wholesale manufacturing prices, is considered to be the probable course of readjustment. There has been a persistent demand for manufactured goods at relatively high retail prices. The wage situation offers resistance to radical reductions in prices of such goods, and the decline in the output of manufactured goods in 1921 was much greater than the decline in the consumption of such goods.

"This is bad news, if true, for the individual consumer who has hoped to see much more radical reduction in retail prices than has yet taken place. The items mentioned, and the increase in gold reserves, decrease in circulating notes and rediscovers, fall in money rates and expenditures availability of credit, leads the Harvard service to the conclusion that with a volume of manufactured output less than current consumption, with moderate stocks of farm products and with a fair amount of foreign trade, there will come about increased business activity and an upward movement of general wholesale commodity prices in 1922."

OLD JACKSONVILLE

A PIECE OF NEWSPAPER

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)
Member Illinois State Historical Society

James G. Edwards—from Boston, Mass., came to Jacksonville when a young preacher the Rev. Julian M. Sturtevant came here in November 1829. Edwards founded a little newspaper in 1830; and he and Charles Jones established the "Illinois Patriot" here in 1831 according to Prof. Frank W. Scott's "Newspapers and Periodicals of Illinois 1814-1879."

The "O. J." man came across a piece of the "Patriot" last week which had been preserved in family interest, for it contained "Greece—A Poem. By R. Goudy, Jr. Recited at the Commencement of Illinois College, Sept. 20, 1837." So that marks nearly in the two columns or more of the scrap, its date of publication.

The paper's announcement of publication and terms read in part: "The Illinois Patriot published every Thursday in Jacksonville, Morgan County. (Office on State Street, near the Public Square.)"

The advertisements have much of interest historical of that time. The paper was four pages, and only the poem is on the piece of the first page.

In the last column of the second page, "E. Jenney agent of the A. B. C. M., acknowledges the following (subscriptions and payments) from Jacksonville:

Saved from a Horrible Death

John Blank of South Jacksonville on attempting to start his car last week found that it would not go. On calling in one of the neighbors to assist him they found that they could not start the car and they pronounced it DEAD. Passersby remarked that it was DEAD. Saddened with the thought and disgusted with trying to start it Mr. Blank decided to call the June Man. While meditating on the circumstance the thought struck him to call C. N. Priest's Service Station. He did accordingly and one of his Service Men appeared on the spot and informed him that if he would have the Battery changed that all would be well. Mr. Blank ordered a Rental Battery put in and directed the Service Man to Recharge his old Battery. The Service Man did as directed and after replacing the old Battery back in the car Mr. Blank is driving his car as well as before. Thus, by a little forethought he saved his car from a HORRIBLE DEATH. MORAL—When in trouble call C. N. PRIEST Motor Car Co. HE CAN FIX IT. Phone 1764.

DR. GEORGE STACY FURNISHES SLOGAN

Dr. George Stacy, formerly of this city, now practicing in Peoria at a recent dinner in that city furnished a slogan which has met with great approval. The Peoria Star of January 28, has this to say of the slogan:

"Much favorable comment is being made on the slogan, 'Pull Together—Push Ahead,' which was suggested by Dr. G. H. Stacy Thursday night at the idea dinner given by the publicity committee of the Association of Commerce."

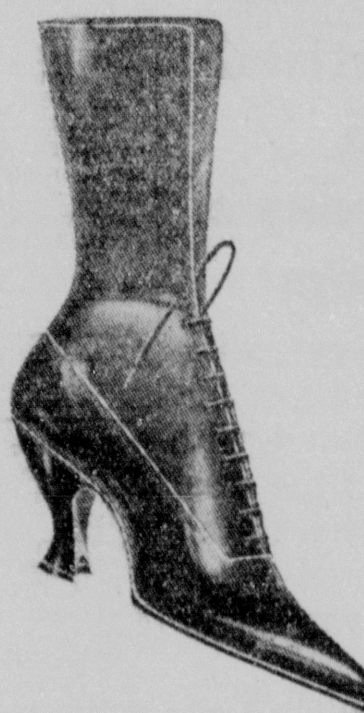

"A feature of the slogan that is appreciated is the fact that it stresses at once a duty and willingness of the people to achieve success through what they do, whereas other mottoes, such as 'pearl of the valley,' 'hub of central Illinois,' suggest chiefly a condition created by nature."

Refers to Political Fight.

"I fully agree with Mr. Wilkerson in his statement this morning that this trial is a trial that will be conducted without reference to the political factions of the state. The court cannot divest itself of the knowledge that there are factions in the state, but they should and will make no difference in the conduct of this case.

"The newspapers have a right to comment upon a case of this character," he continued, referring to editorials and news articles introduced in evidence by the governor's attorneys. "They are in the business of furnishing news to their readers and as long as they keep within the truth they have a right to get the news.

"This case is peculiar from the legal standpoint for the fact that grand jury which returned this indictment saw fit to make charges that are clearly unfounded and unauthorized and these charges have been spread broadcast to every village and hamlet and every home, might say, not only in Lake county, but in the state of Illinois.

"I am not inclined to grant this motion for Len Small, for the reason that he is the governor of the state of Illinois. One of the prices that a man must pay for holding public office is the price of criticism. When a man raises himself above his fellows, the public has a right to view his every act. He is also, according to the records in this case and according to affidavits the head of one of the political factions in this state and while it does not appear in evidence that there are newspapers friendly to him, the court cannot ignore the fact that there has been publicity friendly to the governor. I think it is one of the prices he must pay for the position he occupies and to say the least, it will be very difficult in the trial of this case to keep these matters which have no right or place in the court room, out of the court room and from the influence that they might have upon the jury.

"The thing I have had in mind all during this hearing is the position of this man Curtis. He is a private citizen. He is entitled to a fair and impartial trial. It is the duty of this court to see that he gets a fair and impartial trial."

MILLIKIN NOSES OUT WESLEYAN

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Jan. 31.—By a margin of one point Millikin University won its basketball game against Wesleyan here tonight, the final score being 27 to 26. Like all contests between these two schools the game was hard fought from start to finish. Wesleyan got a better start and the first half ended with the score 13 to 8 in favor of the Methodists.

Early in the second half Macey, Wesleyan guard was put out on fouls and his loss became apparent very soon. Millikin met and passed Wesleyan shortly afterward and were never headed. Wesleyan made a basket which brought the score within one point of a tie only a half minute before the final gun.

The left handed basket shooting of Bowman for Millikin was an unusual feature. Bowman and Bailey were Millikin stars while Macey, Mace and Gotschalk played the best game for Wesleyan.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Jan. 31.—The nine University of Illinois football players who engaged in a football game at Taylorville, Ill., Nov. 27, were declared ineligible for further participation in athletics at the university this afternoon. The nine men suspended are Walquist, Stenaman, Crangle, Kaiser, Gammage, Greene, Simpson, Milligan and Teuscher.

Mullen, a substitute was in the party but was not called upon to play according to the players' stories, and no report was made on him. All the men confessed voluntarily to their part in the game.

The eligibility committee comprises three faculty members H. J. Barton, W. S. Bayley and D. H. Carnahan. The suspended players will all continue in school it was announced.

Queen Incubators
Built to Hatch Without Trouble

QUEEN Incubators are famous for their large hatches of strong, healthy chicks that grow.

The Queen is accurately regulated, taking care of a temperature variation of 70 degrees without danger. It is built of genuine Redwood—very scarce in these days of imitation and substitution. Redwood does not absorb the odor from hatching eggs. Cheaper woods and pasteboard lining in iron and tin machines retain the odors to weaken the hatching chicks.

The Queen has double walls of California Redwood, with insulation between. The Queen hot water system prevents the eggs from drying out and provides ample moisture for the hatching chick. The Queen will come nearer to running itself without any more than ordinary attention than any other incubator made. (1)

Queen Brooders

The Queen Colony Brooder is a new and improved design of brooder stove.

As will be seen from the illustration, the check and draft lids are cast together and operated together. Thus, when the fire is too hot, the wafer expands and closes the draft and opens the check, both at the same time. When it is too cool, the wafer contracts and closes the check and opens the draft. This keeps an even heat all the time, night and day, in cold weather or warm, and does it automatically. You don't have to pay any attention to it whatsoever. Just set the regulator for the proper temperature at the start of the season—it will do the rest.

The Queen stove burns any kind of fuel with equally satisfactory results.

ELLIOTT STATE BANK TO ERECT FINE BUILDING

Plans Now Practically Completed for Handsome New Structure Which Bank Will Put Up at
Corner of East State and Square

Blue prints now in the hands of officers of the Elliott State Bank indicate that the new building which the bank is to erect at the corner of East State street and the square will be a thoroughly modern and up-to-date bank home. The plans have been practically completed altho the actual construction work may not begin until next year.

The dimensions of the new structure will be 90 by 40 feet and before its erection it will be necessary to wreck the building now housing the J. Herman store and the Long Pharmacy. The new building is to be of buff colored Indiana limestone and will be of fireproof construction. The style of architecture will be especially attractive and the main entrance in the center of the building will be a beautiful Greek arch.

The structure is to be strictly a bank building and will be devoted entirely to the business of the Elliott bank. There will be two vaults, one on the main floor and the other in the basement. Safe deposit boxes will be kept in the vault in the main floor while the vault in the basement which cannot be taken care of in the main vault.

The main lobby will be marble-lined and in the center will extend the full height of the building. At the side will be the wide staircases leading to the basement. The offices of the various bank officials will be located at one side near the entrance, and the windows for the transaction of business will be along either side. The vault and private booths will be located at the rear of the building.

The plans also include mezzanine floors for the use of bookkeepers and other workers, and a mezzanine floor at the front will be used as the directors' room.

In the basement there will be assembly rooms, committee rooms and other rooms especially designed for the convenience of the bank's customers.

As indicated, the building when completed will be one in which the officers of the bank and the city generally may well take pride.

FACTORY MACHINERY READY FOR SHIPMENT

The machinery which was recently purchased for the Rothchild clothing factory is now ready for shipment, according to a telegram received yesterday by Albert Renner from Felix Rothchild in Chicago. The machinery is to be installed under the supervision of an expert millwright. Mr. Renner wired Mr. Rothchild to hold the machinery for a few days as the building is not yet quite ready for it.

Work is being rapidly pushed in making the building ready for the clothing factory and it will be only a matter of a few days until everything is in readiness. The lighting arrangements will be especially advantageous, and everything possible is being done to make the new factory up-to-date. Mr. Renner, who is to manage the new factory, has a number of persons ready to enter upon their duties as employees and some of them are already in training for their new work.

J. C. WALSH GETS RADIOPHONE REPORT

Has Station at Residence and Hears all the Concerts, Sporting Events and Other World News.

I read in the Journal this morning the editorial on the speed with which the Journal printed the news of the storm in the eastern states ahead of the Chicago papers and this is what came to my mind: Friday evening, January 20th I heard Associated Press reports sent out from Newark, N. J., by radiophone announcing the acceptance of Henry Ford's bid on Muscle Shoals plant, and drawing up the contract and returning same to Detroit for his signature, and this news was also published in the Journal as late as Wednesday morning.

We also get market reports at 6:30 P. M., music, concerts, speeches, sporting events, orchestras and bands from various places about the U. S. A. and even in my own home I receive Newark, N. J., Pittsburgh, Chicago, Madison and Denver.

J. C. Walsh.

Evidently Mr. Walsh did not read the editorial referred to carefully. The editor did not say anything about printing news of the big storm in the east Saturday before the Chicago and other big city papers.

What he did say was that the big city papers in their mail editions which reach Jacksonville early Sunday morning carried the news of the storm but did not have anything about the Knickerbocker Theater disaster in Washington which resulted from the storm. As a matter of fact all of the evening papers Saturday carried reports of the storm as it raged all of that day.

On the date mentioned by Mr. Walsh, January 20, the Journal, over its leased Associated Press wire received the story of the acceptance by the government of Henry Ford's offer for the lease of Muscle Shoals. Each night the Journal receives thru the Associated Press service between fifteen and eighteen thousand words. It is impossible to print all of this news. The news which is judged to be of the most importance is pulled out and used and it happened that the Muscle Shoals story was one of those not used.

On January 25th the Journal carried a dispatch from Washington as stated by Mr. Walsh in which Senator McKellar, Democrat, of Tennessee, praised the acceptance of the offer of Mr. Ford by the Government. This dispatch stated that the contract had been drawn and forwarded on that day to Mr. Ford at Detroit for his signature.

On January 25 the Journal received a story from Detroit which was published in the Journal of January 26, to the effect that Mr. Ford had on that day signed the contract and started it back to Washington by one of the Ford engineers. This story was given out from the office of Mr. Ford.

We believe that if Mr. Walsh will take the trouble to investigate he will find that several days intervened between the acceptance of Mr. Ford's offer and the forwarding of the contract to the Detroit Manufacturer for signature. We also believe he will find that the Associated Press dates as to the forwarding and signing of the contract are correct. The Associated Press seldom is in error on any news relating to government business sent out from Washington as it has the best staff of newsmen in the world in its Washington office.

HEARING FOR PAVEMENT HELD

The Board of Local Improvements held a hearing yesterday on the paving of East State street from Johnson street to the city limits. There were a number of property owners present and objected to the proposed improvement. However, these men were not making objection to the pavement but because of present financial conditions.

This project contemplates the building of a brick pavement from Johnson street thru the subway under the Wash tracks to the city limits. It is an improvement greatly needed and the board adhered to the former resolution and the pavement will be built.

One thing brought out at the hearing was the fact that many people outside the city who use the road have expressed a willingness to assist the property owners in paying for the pavement.

All of the members of the board were present. The property owners were William Lederbaum, Mike Schneider, Mr. Denny, Ray Wood and an engineer of the Washash railroad.

by Miss Helen Holmes. Victrola music added greatly to the pleasure of the program, one of the selections played being, "The Maple Leaf Forever," the maple leaf being the emblem of Canada.

At the close of the program came a social hour and the serving of delightful refreshments. Among the guests were, Mrs. Thomas Harber and Mrs. Henry Welborn of Jacksonville.

LOCAL BOARD OF UNDERWRITERS DISBANDED

At a meeting of the local board of Fire Underwriters held at the Ayers National bank Tuesday morning, a number of the members withdrew their names as members and the result was a complete disbanding of the board. It is alleged that some of the members were guilty of violating some of the rules governing the board, and this caused the withdrawal of certain other members. It is probable that the various insurance companies represented will soon take steps to organize a new board.

TALKS ABOUT TRAFFIC BUREAU

Springfield Man Tells of Benefits to Shippers—Much Interest is Shown by Local Business Men.

Herbert A. Tuohy, traffic manager of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce addressed a gathering of some 50 business men and manufacturers last night at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium in this city.

Mr. Tuohy explained in detail the workings of the Springfield bureau, and clearly brought out the great savings derived for its members in the saving and freight rates, demurrage charges and prompt adjustments of claims and damaged shipments and the money saved on auditing freight bills alone more than pays the cost of operating the entire bureau. It saves money for the small shipper as well as for the large manufacturer.

After the address many questions were asked and were all promptly answered.

Those present at the meeting were strongly in favor of forming some sort of traffic bureau in Jacksonville.

The meeting was presided over by Charles Fiedler, chairman of the committee in charge of this project, other members of the committee being Simon Fernandez, T. W. Beadle, Fletcher Blackburn, J. G. Berger, James J. Graham, G. B. Andre, Joe Shreve, Charles Buhrer, J. A. Paschal, James Akire, Ernest Grassley, Charles Mackness, Robert Mullenix, Fred Hopper, Hugh Breeden and Fount Andrews, Jr.

Jet Jet

What do you know about Jet—Is it a metal? Is it mined, or is it composition—manufactured? Where does it come from?

Jet mining has all the speculative thrills that are to be found in gold and diamond mining according to a jet miner of Whithy, where the jet rock, a hardened mud deposit, is worked at convenient heights above the level of the seashore. The jet seams run from six to eight feet in depth and are mined by light gunpowder charges, and the pick, in the softer seams. Black fashions being in vogue now and a demand for jet having sprung up again, the industry is getting busy once more. Good jet, mined in large pieces brings $35 a stone. Small jet suitable for hat-pin heads, beads and the like is valued at about $5 per stone. Great care is needed in the carving and turning of jet. The jet rock of Spain is inferior to the British rock lacking the latter's brightness and polish. But the presence of Spanish jet on the market has affected the exportation of Whithy jet despite its fame. Jet miners find the work rather fascinating. Sometimes they will go for months before striking a vein that will reward them well. On other occasions they may strike "oil" within an hour of "prospecting."

MRS. MINA RABER, Aurora, Ill.

"A short time ago I was one of th east nervous and miserable persons on the earth, but thanks to Tanlac I'm well and happy now," said Mrs. Mina Raber, 446 Farnsworth Ave., Aurora, Ill. "It was just about two years ago that I began to be distressed after every meal. I had awful smothering spells at times and my heart beat so irregularly that I often thought I wouldn't live through the attack. Headaches were the bane of my existence and I shudder even now when I think of them. My back hurt me, too, and it was just agony for me to again bend over and straighten up."

"Tanlac has done for me far more than I ever expected and I'm like a different person altogether. In fact, I'm in perfect health now. In my opinion, Tanlac is the best medicine under the sun." Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co., and J. F. Shreve, druggist, and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

HURRY WATERWAY SMALL'S REQUEST TO COL. MILLER

Governor Asks for Quick Action on Illinois Project—His Letter to Miller.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 31.—In a letter addressed to Col. C. R. Miller, director of public works and buildings, Gov. Len Small today asked that steps be taken at once towards the construction of the Illinois Waterway. He directed Colonel Miller to see that plans, specifications and estimates are prepared and submitted, together with a report on the waterway situation.

The governor points out, however, that those in charge of the work must always bear in mind the necessity for economy and must insist that the taxpayers get a dollar in service for every dollar spent on the waterway, just as in the construction of hard roads.

The governor's letter to Colonel Miller is as follows:

Hon. C. R. Miller,
Director of Public Works & Bldgs.,
Springfield, Ill.

My dear Colonel Miller:

"I hope the time is near when it will be possible and practicable for us to push the construction of the Illinois Waterway. The economic conditions which made the execution of our program inadvisable, and, indeed, impracticable, a year ago, have to some extent been removed. Then, as you know, the high cost of material would not justify construction work.

"The cost of a part of construction commodities have been materially reduced and I hope all the materials required in the construction of the waterway can soon be procured at fair and equitable prices which will justify the pushing of state work.

"The people of Illinois at the polls authorized the construction of the waterway. It is for us to obey their mandate just as early as we can consistently and economically do so, bearing in mind that we must not permit the payment of unjust prices for supplies or to contractors and insisting that the taxpayers of this state get a dollar in value for every dollar of their money which we spend.

"With this end in view, you please issue the necessary instructions to the Division of Waterways, its officials and engineers, to be prepared with plans and specifications and a careful detailed estimate of the cost of a completed waterway as contemplated in the law submitted to the people and approved by them. I should like to have you, with the assistance of the officials of the Division of Waterways make a personal investigation of the entire waterway and the work already done and submit to me a written report together with the estimates of the engineers and superintendent.

"Hoping that it will soon be possible for me to personally go over this matter with you and that it will not be long before I can again devote my time uninterruptedly to my official duties, I am

Yours very truly,
LEN SMALL."

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

The tax books are now in the collector's office and taxes extended stand as judgments against all parties mentioned therein.

Persons paying on personal property only should pay the tax promptly and avoid trouble and expense in collection. The judgment reads as follows: "In case any person named in said books shall neglect or refuse to pay their personal tax, you shall levy the same by distress and sale of goods and chattels of such persons." Parties paying on real estates should bring their old tax receipts to save time and avoid mistakes. If paying thru the banks, leave your old receipts with your bank as soon as possible.

METHODISTS MEET IN ASHLAND TODAY

Group Meeting of Jacksonville District of Chicago Area is Held Today—Dr. E. L. Fletcher on Program.

ASHLAND, Ill., Feb. 1.—A group meeting of the Jacksonville District of the Chicago Area of the Methodist Episcopal church will be in session here all day, February 1st. Dr. E. L. Fletcher, Jacksonville, superintendent, and Dr. J. A. Betcher, pastor, will be assisted on the program by several eminent speakers.

The following, according to a statement by Dr. E. L. Fletcher is the program which was discussed and adopted at the meeting:

"The imperative work for 1922 is the completion of the Centenary world program of Intercession, Evangelism, stewardship and accepted financial goals, the fulfillment of which required annually, offerings to God totalling $23,000,000 for each year of the five year period. In the vocabulary of Methodism there is no such word as fail. Our divine leader is with us, and under his guidance and with his help the confident expectation of the peoples of all lands must and shall be met.

"The Centenary is not at an end, only a beginning. It was never intended to be other than one in a series of advances for the purpose of realizing the kingdom of God in the earth. World conditions emphasizes new needs and compel new and enlarged programs. Today in the city of Washington the nations of the world are planning for the longed for time when the war drum shall throb no longer and the battle flags shall be furled. The hope for the embodiment of this international ideal in the life of the world is largely with the churches. The work already accomplished by Methodism has placed the heart of the world in sympathetic touch with her ideals. The hour has struck in which to consolidate our gains and stage the next advance.

"In preparation for this advance, we recommend a new study, in cooperation with and thru the constituent boards of the entire field at home and abroad to the end that the total task of Methodism local and world wide may be visualized and set before the church. A program of the church for deepening and quickening the religious life and the spiritual passion of every member of the church. Such an aggressive and intensive program as will make each member an Evangelist with restless zeal for Christian conquest. A program of education carried first to the quarterly conference then thru the quarterly conference to even the smallest and most remote church, with the purpose of informing the entire membership with respect to the scope and purpose of all our benevolent enterprises. Such a program to be regarded not as a means to a financial goal and as an end in itself. The inculcation of the doctrine of Christian stewardship, stewardship of life, of substance, of prayer as essential to the complete Christian life and not merely as a means for financing the program of the church. The enlistment of the laity of the church official and non-official in the ideals and program of the church official and non-official in earnestly urge the use of the unit system and the mobilization of all lay forces for aggressive and efficient service.

Committee of Twenty-Five.

"We recommend the creation of a committee of twenty-five members, lay and clerical, of which at least fifteen shall be members of the council of boards of benevolence. This committee shall be appointed by the president of the council. The chairman of the executive committee and the chairman of the committee on conservation and advance acting jointly. Said committee in consultation with the president of the council, the chairman of the executive committee, the chairman of the committee on conservation and advance, the corresponding secretary, and the treasurer shall take all necessary steps to carry out the recommendations hereby adopted.

To this committee shall be submitted not later than January 1, 1923, the results of the study heretofore provided for, and on the basis of this submitted study, the committee shall prepare a program of advances for presentation to the council at its annual meeting in June, 1923, or at a special meeting called for the purpose at as early a date as may be practicable.

"We recommend that the constituent boards make provision for the prosecution of these studies at the earliest possible opportunity.

"Methodist leaders in every age have been men of superb faith and far-reaching vision. Conscious of their providential call, they dare to follow where it led. The Wesleyan revival in England, the gatherings under Asbury, McKendree and Lee, and the sublime audacity of the present Centenary movement are illustrations of this truth.

"First among the churches Methodism sensed a world situation and planned to meet it. With the whole world in flames and while the world was gathering the nations in its fiery arms, Methodism chartered the moral need of humanity, and planned its program to meet that need. The response of Methodists everywhere was instant and inspiring. Other churches caught the contagion of world advance and speedily overtook, and now step with their comrade in arms. The son of God is today the leader of the most splendid crusade in behalf of the kingdom that the centuries have ever witnessed.

"Today the doors of world opportunity swing wide open, and today the Methodist advance for Christian conquest is in full tide. Her program is outlined, her scores are strategically placed at home and abroad, and her consecrated members are pouring their gifts into the treasuries of God. The time is ripe for a 'Forward March!' Our leaders in the home and foreign fields tell of opportunities well nigh unimaginable. That Methodism in this hour of unparalleled and providential opportunity will either slow down or even beat a strategic retreat is inconceivable."

The Son of God goes forth to War,
A Kingly crown to gain,
His blood red Banner streams afar,
We follow in his train.

A Word to Merchants—

New Spring Styles Ready for Delivery

EVERY merchant should visit a large market at least once each year to get a personal knowledge of the new styles and new lines of merchandise. Your customers expect you to keep posted on the ever-changing conditions and offer seasonable merchandise and correct fashions. This is especially true this Spring. Reasonably priced commodities and the newest patterns will be the demand of your customers this Spring.

Because of uncertain business conditions in the last few seasons many merchants have been unable to go to market regularly. The styles and kinds of merchandise have changed. Your volume of sales this Spring will depend largely upon how fully you are prepared to meet the call for prevailing styles and dependable goods.

St. Louis is your nearest big market. Its nearness to you saves time, railroad fare and freight charges. St. Louis wholesale houses have the largest open stocks of any market in the country. This gives the widest varieties from which to make your selections for immediate delivery. You can see your order made up as you make your choice from up-to-the-minute goods and patterns.

St. Louis business houses have for more than a century specialized in studying and supplying the demands of your section and therefore are better qualified to solve your merchandising problems and meet your requirements. Their 1922 Spring stocks are now complete.

ACTIVE TRADING IN BURLINGTON ISSUE

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Stocks drifted today during the greater part of today's session. Fluctuations apparently representing the conflicting views of pools and the professional element.
American cc. Gulf States Steel, and Krige at gains of 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 points were the strong features. Motors, sugars, tobaccos, chemicals, textiles and utilities were under further pressure, sustaining extreme losses of 1 to 2 1/2 points.
Declaration of the regular dividend on Studobaker was in line with popular expectations.
United States Steel was apathetic, throat. Sale of stocks amounted to 400,000.

Shifting of bank reserves in anticipation of February payments caused a moderate stiffening of time funds, five per cent ruling for the longer dates. All call loans were made at 5 per cent and in private at a shade under that quotation. Trading in bonds fell away to a marked extent, not result in the liberty group, however showing a preponderance of gains. There was active trading in the new Burlington $30,000,000 issue and low grade rails were mixed. Foreign government bonds closed with a firm tone. Total sales (par value) aggregated $14,375,000.

INCOME TAX FACTS

A new and important provision in the revenue act of 1921 is that every person whose gross income for 1921 was $5,000 or over shall file a return, regardless of the amount of net income. If a husband and wife living together have an aggregate gross income of $5,000 or over, separate returns or a joint return may be filed.

Regardless of the amount of gross income, returns are required of every married person living with husband or wife whose net income for 1921 was $2,000 or over, and of every single person, or married person not living with husband or wife, whose net income was $1,000 or over. "Net income," upon which the tax is assessed, is "gross income" less certain specified deductions. Gross income "includes gains, profits, and income derived from salaries, wages, or compensation for personal service, of whatever kind and in whatever form paid, or from professions, vocations, trades, businesses, commerce, or sales, or dealings in property, whether real or personal, growing out of the ownership or use of or interest in such property; also from interest, rent, dividends, securities, or the transaction of any business carried on for gain or profit, or gains or profits and income derived from any source whatever."

Taxpayers may be divided into four general classes—the wage earner or salaried class, business, professional and agricultural. Any form of compensation for personal service rendered by the wage earner is income including salaries, wages, commissions, fees, pensions paid retired employees and tips. All must be included in gross income. If payment for personal services is made partly in cash and partly in board and lodging, a fair value must be placed on the room and meals, and the amount included as income.

The gross income of the usual business consists of the gross profits on sales, together with income from other sources. The return must show the gross sales, purchases, and cost of goods sold. To reflect net income correctly, inventories are necessary at the beginning and end of each taxable year.

The lawyer, doctor, architect, author, dentist, clergyman must include in his return of gross income all fees, salaries, and like compensation for professional services.

Exemption Allowed Clergymen.
Certain items are specifically exempt from income tax. In addition to the items exempted by the revenue act of 1918, such as proceeds of life insurance policies, amounts received through accident or health insurance, value of property on state and certain federal bonds, etc., the revenue act of 1921 provides that the rental value of a dwelling and its appurtenances furnished a minister of the gospel is exempt from income tax, and need not be included in the return.

The exemption of $2,500 formerly allowed persons in active military or naval service of the United States is repealed. Amounts received under the war-risk insurance and vocational rehabilitation acts or from war pensions of the United States are exempt, and need not be included in the return.

The farmer is required to report as gross income all receipts derived from the sale or exchange of family products, including crops and live stock whether produced on the farm or purchased and resold. Where farm produce is exchanged for groceries, merchandise, or other articles the fair market value of the articles received must be reported as income. A farmer who rents his farm on the crop-share basis must report such income for the year in which the crops are sold. Profit derived from the sale or rental of farm lands must be reported.

Items to be Included.
Every taxpayer is required to include in his return of gross income the following items:
Interest received on notes and deposits in banks, including savings banks.
Cash dividend on stock. The supreme court decided in March, 1920, that stock dividends are not taxable. Profits from the sale of such stock, however, are taxable income for the year in which received. Only dividends paid out of earnings or profits accrued since March 1, 1913, are taxed.
Profits received from the sale of property, real, personal, or mixed. The basis for ascertaining gain derived from the sale or disposition of such property acquired after March 1, 1913, is cost. The basis for ascertaining the gain derived from the sale or other disposition of such property acquired before March 1, 1913, is likewise cost, but—
If its fair market price or value as of March 1, 1913, was in excess of cost, the gain is the excess of the amount realized over such fair market price or value. For example, A purchased a house in 1910 for $10,000; its fair market value on March 1, 1913, was $15,000 and he sold in 1921 for $20,000. The amount to be reported as gross income is the difference between $20,000 and $15,000, or $5,000.
If the amount realized therefor is more than cost but not more than its fair market value as of March 1, 1913, no gain shall be included in gross income. For instance, if A, in the above example, had sold in 1921 for $15,000, no taxable gain would have resulted.
If the amount realized therefor is less than cost but more than March 1, 1913, value, there is no gain. For example, if A purchased a house in 1910 for $10,000 and its fair market value as of March 1, 1913, was $8,000 and
